CalPERS

Reinvention with Generative AI

Summary of Session

Eyal Darmon, Accenture's North America Public Service Data, AI, and Generative AI Lead, will present on the transformative power of generative AI. The session will cover what generative AI is, its importance, and its economic impact. In this session, Eyal will showcase real-world examples of generative AI implementation in the public sector, demonstrating how it can enhance efficiency and decision-making. We will also explore how organizations, like CalPERS, can reinvent themselves with generative AI.
